Part I, Line 2 - Procedures for Monitoring the Use of Grant Funds

The Community Foundation of Central Georgia conducts due diligence on all potential grantees to ensure the eligibility for application or receipt of funds, the tax exemption of the organization, the charitable nature of the organization, the charitable nature of the grant request, and the financial health and reputation of the organization. Telephone inquiries are made on a regular basis to obtain current information on the organization as part of due diligence. If needed, as in cases of new organizations or organizations that have not previously been awarded, site visits are conducted to review the organization and its programs. Prior to funds being disbursed to a potential grantee organization, requests for disbursement must be approved by the Executive Committee or the Board of Directors of CFCG.

After approval, grantees receive their grant payment along with an award letter specifically stating how the funds are to be used. Final reports on how the grant funds were used are required for all grants from competitive grant-making programs. Final reports may also be required for any grants from a donor advised, organizational endowment, scholarship or designated fund if so requested by the donor.

In addition to the above, if, in the due diligence process, an organization is found to require expenditure responsibility based on the fund type or the organization's tax exempt status, CFCG staff determines if the project has a charitable mission. If so, and if the Board of Directors approves making the grant, staff develops a grant agreement to present to the recipient organization. Grants to these organizations are made when the agreement has been signed by both parties. All grants requiring expenditure

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11b - Organization's Process to Review Form 990

Following preparation of the Form 990 and review by the president and by the chief financial officer, the Form 990 is presented to the audit committee of the board of directors. The Foundation's external accounting firm attends this meeting along with the president and the chief financial officer of the Foundation to answer questions and provide further information or details. At this time the committee reviews the return and, by vote, approves the return for filing.

A copy of the Form 990 and minutes of the audit committee's meeting are then provided electronically to each board member. At the next regularly scheduled meeting of the board of directors, the audit committee chair presents the report from the audit committee. When this presentation is successfully completed, the Form 990 is filed.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 12c - Enforcement of Conflicts Policy

Board and staff members covered by the conflict of interest policy are required to disclose conflicts of interest annually by completing a questionnaire listing the organizations they or their spouse serve, are employed by, or with which they have a business relationship.

Annually, covered individuals are also required to sign a statement indicating they have received a copy of the policy, have read and understand it, agree to comply with the policy, and agree to disclose a potential conflict prior to participating in any related deliberations or making any related decisions. If the board of directors determines that there is a conflict or the appearance of a conflict, the individual agrees to abstain from voting and will not participate in the discussions other than to provide information of a technical nature or answer specific questions that may be raised by other board members.

Conflicts of interest brought to the attention of the board or its committees during meetings are identified in the official minutes of that meeting.
